

Regents eye 'about 20' applicants, see Hobby, Daniel on appropriation

By GAYLE REAVES
Special Correspondent
AUSTIN—A new president and additional appropriations were the main topics of concern for West Texas State University Regents meeting here Friday, although no definitive action was taken on either subject.

In an executive session after the regular meeting, the board considered the work of the advisory screening committee, which in past weeks has screened 210 applications from 43 states for the position soon to be vacated by retiring President James P. Cornette.

Regent Chairman Cloyce Box

said about 20 of the applicants were being seriously considered for the job, but declined to release the names of those in contention.

Although Box said no persons who had not been reviewed by the screening committee had been added to the list of persons being considered, the board "certainly reserves the right to add any names." He said he anticipates one or two possibly would be added.

No names will be released until the Regents have chosen the five or six finalists for the position, he said.

Regents will begin interviews with the finalists after the group has visited the campus sometime "in the near future," although Box would not set an exact date for the visit.

"It is not to the advantage of the people being considered or the school or the community," to release the names, the chairman explained.

"Some of them don't want their bosses to know they're looking for a new job."

"I anticipate that within the next 15 to 20 days, it will be necessary for us to meet again to further review the candidates."

In the meantime the Regents themselves will study the report of the screening committee, since, as Box emphasized, it is by law solely the board's and not the committee's responsibility "to the taxpayers to do this job."

The regents commended the screening committee for the time and effort expended in the reviewing process.

On the question of funding, support for West Texas State appropriation requests was given Friday by Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby and Speaker of the House Price Daniel Jr.

Hobby paid the Regents a short visit while the Regents were in executive session.

Chairman Box and Regent

Don Curry visited Daniel in his capitol chambers Friday afternoon.

A hoped-for meeting with Gov. Dolph Briscoe was forestalled when the governor had to leave town early Friday afternoon.

Hobby "assured us he will do everything he can to help us," Box said.

The Regents chairman was also "very much encouraged" by Daniel's words. "He understands the problems we have," Box said.

As part of the governor's efforts to get by without taxes in 1973, WTSU's original budget request has been cut this year to even less than the $6½ million requested last year, Virgil Henson, financial vice president, explained.

The university's budget has now been cut to about $300,000 under what is needed to pay salaries of the university faculty, staff and administration, he said.

It is this amount the Regents are working to have restored.

"We're scrapping for our lives," Henson added.

The problem stems primarily from WTSU's 17 per cent drop in enrollment this year, according to Box.

Appropriations are based on enrollment figures.

As a result of the enrollment drop, the college is presently overstaffed, with a professor-to-student ratio of about 1-18 when ideally it should be 1-25, Box said.

The staff reductions cannot be made immediately in the wake of the enrollment drop, because of faculty tenure and other considerations, he said.

"We're working very hard with the legislature to keep our school from suffering," he said.

A matter which might require future appropriations was approved at the board meeting, when regents okayed the establishment of the School of Pharmacy at WTSU.

Four associate professors in pharmacy and pharmacognosy would be added to the faculty for the new school, plus a dean and a secretary. Additional equipment is expected to cost $1000 in 1973-74.

The establishment of the Pharmacy School and approval of a degree in pharmacy, is contingent on a decision by a state-wide board.

Technical complications in obtaining approval from the Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System, had caused delays since the original

Names of applicants are revealed

Names and qualifications of the more than 200 applicants for the position of the presidency at West Texas State University were released to the public Friday by Regents Chairman Cloyce Box.

Box and other regents directed Dr. James P. Cornette, university president, to make the names available in his office at the campus.

"We can't keep them forever away from the public," Box said.

Dr. Cornette brought a half dozen ring-bound binders back with him from Austin. The binders contain all information compiled by the screening committee on each applicant.

Only one applicant for the position of president does not have a doctorate degree of some type, and he is a retired lieutenant general in the Armed Forces.

A brief perusal of the applicants' qualifications revealed a large number of applications are from the East, North and South parts of the country.

Many current college presidents have applied for the WTSU opening, as have many vice presidents, deans, and several officials with educational organizations.

At least a handful of applicants now work for government offices. Many are from large universities and many are from small colleges and junior colleges. Several are superintendents of school districts.

Apparently, no women made formal application to the screening committee, but a listing of available women's names was apparently submitted by the American Historical Society.

Included among applicants are many from Texas universities and colleges, including Bill Miller, whose name has been mentioned in respect to the position. Miller is at North Texas State.

Two administrators from WTSU also submitted applications—Dr. Kenneth Laycock, vice president for research and development, and Dr. T. Paige Carruth, vice president for student affairs.

Several applicants are also from the business world.

Cattle deaths mounting due to bloat in county

Cattle deaths in Randall County due to bloat and two other prevalent conditions are more numerous than in recent years and are on the rise, according to County Agent John Brazzil.

"I know many producers who went through the entire winter with no losses who are now suffering losses," Brazzil said. "It's almost daily routine to look over your animals on wheat and find one or two dead."

Brazzil said deaths of cattle on wheat pasture in the county is a universal problem here due to bloat, wheat poisoning and nitrate poisoning.

"I know producers who've lost 15, 20 and 30 head," he said. "I suspect with the abundance of wheat we're experiencing we're having higher losses than we've had in many years. I can't remember many years when we've had the bloat problem we're having now."

Brazzil said there is no way of estimating the losses in terms of numbers for the county. He noted there are between 30,000 and 40,000 head of cattle feeding on wheat in the county now outside feedlots.

Dr. Gene E. Cope, area extension veterinarian in Amarillo, confirmed that the bloat problem is area-wide in nature.

Dr. Cope cited the health problems local producers experienced during the bitter winter months and said sickness and death loss "was tremendous."

"Now we are experiencing nearly as severe a loss this spring, due primarily to bloat," Dr. Cope said.

Dr. Cope said the problem of bloat is a complicated one, but the Panhandle is currently experiencing conditions which are conducive to the production of bloat—warm weather, good soil moisture and fast growing wheat.

The best prevention of bloat, Dr. Cope said, is the introduction of bloat guard blocks at the rate of one block per five head of cattle.

All other salt should be removed, he said. Primary agent in the blocks is Poloxalene, which is also available in granules or a liquid mix.

"The reason Poloxalene is effective is that it reduces surface tension allowing the gas to escape and rise to the top so that the animal may belch excess gas," Dr. Cope said.

Other methods of preventing bloat are addition of roughage to the diet, introduction of antibiotics and the inclusion of mineral or animal oil.

These methods are limited by cost, availability and general practicality of use, however, he said.

County residents protest package store licensing

The first protest against licensing of a liquor store in Randall County since county voters approved alcoholic beverage sale last fall was heard Friday by County Judge Woody Pond.

A handful of South Amarillo residents attended a public hearing on licensing of a Judge Roy Bean Liquor Store to be located at 34th and Wimberly in Amarillo.

The residents told Judge Pond they don't want a liquor store in their neighborhood.

The hearing was on a request by R.C. Hamblin, who would be owner of the liquor store.

Pond continued the hearing until next Friday due to discrepancies in reporting and filing of the exact address of the liquor store.

Jody McCarthy of the Texas

Alcoholic Beverage Commission told Pond he had no objection to the liquor store being licensed except he was unsure of the exact address of the store.

The store, according to Hamblin, is to be located in a now vacant building on 34th just east of intersection with Wimberly. The location is about two blocks east of Georgia Street and about a block from Coronado Elementary School.

"I don't want a package store that close to the residential and school area there," declared J.D. Webster of 3214 Rusk in Amarillo. "I think you'd find more people here if they knew about it. We don't want a package store in that area."

Webster was backed in his protest by Ted Lokey Jr. of 3400 Lamar, who said his home is Nearly 1000 voters flocked to the polls Saturday to re-elect Harold Erwin and Richard Pruett to their places on the Canyon School Board and to unseat O.H. Kahlis of Happy from his place on the South Randall County Hospital District board.

Pruett ran a strong race, polling nearly half the votes cast Saturday and Erwin was a distant second as 926 voters cast ballots in Canyon, at Gene Howe School and through the absentee box.

Pruett received 444 votes to lead the balloting followed by Erwin with 344.

Five other challengers tallied fewer than 300 votes each.

David Kent, tennis coach at West Texas State University, received 261 votes. Dr. J. L. Markham, Canyon veterinarian, received 213 votes. Mrs. Pauline Hefley, local businesswoman, tallied 208 votes. Dr. Wallace Johnston, head of the industrial education department at West Texas State, received 177 votes and Dr. Hiram Carr received 135 votes.

A total of 803 votes were cast at the Canyon box in spite of high winds and threatening skies throughout the day. Eighty-nine persons voted at the Gene Howe School box and 34 persons had cast absentee ballots.

At the Gene Howe box, Mrs. Hefley received 51 votes and Erwin received 48 votes to lead that polling area. Erwin is a farmer and rancher whose children go to school at Gene Howe.

Mrs. Hefley recently moved to Canyon from the Gene Howe area, where her children also attended school.

In the hospital board election, with four persons to be elected from a possible five candidates, George Blackwell, local insurance man, narrowly knocked Kahlis from the seat.

Room rates at Neblett Memorial Hospital here were hiked by $2 last week.

Ray Grimes, administrator, said rates were increased on a private room from $35 per day to $37 per day and rates for a semi-private room were raised from $30 per day to $32 per day.

The rate increases reflect an over-all 2 per cent increase in prices at the hospital, he said.

Grimes said the Canyon hospital is only allowed a maximum of 2½ per cent increase in prices per year by the Phase 3 guidelines of President Nixon.

The price hike was put into effect, Grimes said, so employees at the hospital can be given salary increases.

Even with the room rate hike, Grimes said the Canyon hospital is "way on the low side compared to Amarillo."

Although he said he doesn't exactly know what Amarillo's hospital rates are, he believes they are in the $40 and $50 range.

Rates in Canyon were raised more than a year ago.

Grimes said even with the rate increase, the Canyon hospital will be operating on a border-line budget.

"A 2½ per cent increase in charges will produce only X amount of dollars and if you give a 4 or 5 per cent increase in salaries you've used up exactly that amount of revenue or a little more," Grimes said.

He said almost two-thirds of the costs in operating a hospital are related to employee salaries and benefits.

"That's why during times of rising costs, hospital costs have to go up so high," he said.

He noted that most industries have fewer employee costs than do health-related businesses.

In addition, he said, hospitals

Incumbent Bill Sternberg polled the most votes with 564, followed by Mrs. T.G. Hull with 550, Vernon Harman with 504, and Blackwell with 390. Kahlis polled 362 votes.

A total of 604 persons voted in the election with 11 casting absentee ballots.

Election Judge Aubrey Crossland said it was the largest voter turnout in his eight years as judge.

A total of 42 votes were cast in the election for a trustee for the County School Board.

Incumbent Mrs. Joy Watson was defeated handily by Charles Purcell.

Purcell garnered 36 votes to take the seat while Mrs. Watson tallied only two votes.

Thirty-six of the 42 votes were cast in the Gene Howe box.

Two speakers view women's rights problem

It was not exactly women versus men Thursday night at the Sixth Interdepartmental meeting of West Texas State University faculty members.

But, it was obvious there was a gap of some kind during the discussion following a speech by Mrs. Michael Green on women's changing role in American society.

Mrs. Green provided a basically historical setting, for the fight by women for equal rights with men and was followed by a speech by Dr. Wilmer McNair, who took a look at the women's liberation movement in light of certain factual realities in American society.

Tracing the fight for equal rights by women through the 1960s, Mrs. Green, who came to prominence in Canyon last fall when she travelled to the Democratic national convention as an alternate state delegate, said many demands made by women were not heard until the Civil Rights movement of the 1960s, when women activists joined with their fellow civil rights workers in a fight for civil rights for all.

The next great battle in the fight came in the peace movement of the late 1960s.

Their goal—to build a world where no one is subordinate in a role due to visible differences.

Mrs. Green said an outgrowth of that outcry has been the Equal Rights Act, which was passed by congress but which must face ratification by a majority of the states to become a law.

It can't really be said Mrs. Caldwell and Mrs. Green take opposite stands on the woman's role in society. But, you can say they each have something interesting to say about who and what women should be in America. The two speeches were made on Thursday night in Canyon.

The vocalist sang out with a throbbing arrangement of "I Am A Woocommerce."

It was the cue for the well-fed audience gathered in the East Cafeteria Thursday evening to push aside the remains of apple pie and coffee. They settled back to hear what the speaker, Marge Caldwell of Houston—lecturer, operator of a charm school, author of "The Radiant You"—had to say about women.

"I am strong, I am invincible, I am woo-oo-oo-mun," the singer finished in clear, strident tones that made all the women feel good and the men uneasy.

One grey-haired gentleman shifted nervously as a nice, well-groomed young man bent over the table and asked him if he wanted more coffee.

Eyes turned from the room spread with faces of pretty girls, dignitaries, and parents to the podium. In a moment or two the speaker's well-coiffed blonde head and navy polka-dot shoulders appeared above the podium. Gazing directly into the eyes of people left and right, she smiled real wide and told them in a big, warm voice, "I am just so glad to be here I don't know what to do."

"And I am so glad I'm a woman... You know what they say about a woman, don't you? When she's 10, she wants playmates. When she's 20, she wants a man. When she's 30, she wants love. When she's 40, she wants sympathy. And when she's 50, she wants—cold cash."

Everyone laughed and relaxed. She was their kind of folks.

Our World

Nixon Constructive In Saving America

By ANN BROWN

Many Americans who voted against Richard Nixon in the last election did so with fervent praying for the right man to be elected. It looks as if their petition may have been granted.

President Nixon has taken more constructive steps toward the restoration of this nation since he was re-elected than has been taken since it began to decline in 1929.

Even the most vehement opponents to federal bureaucracy and Women's Lib will surely admit the appointment of Mrs. Armstrong as counselor to the President appears to be the most valuable addition to the federal payroll since George Washington.

Mrs. Armstrong reportedly advocates shutting off the giveaway spigots, and letting people work for what they want or do without.

The President has defended the neighborhood schools, asked Congress to curtail government spending, abolish insanity as a defense for criminal action, restore the death penalty, redefine obscenity laws, and completely revamp the criminal code.

Queen Victoria pulled Britain, and to a great extent the world, back from the brink of moral disaster. If President Nixon can do the same, he will earn a place on history's roll of honor along with England's greatest Queen.

If unnecessary government spending is not eliminated, the nation will eventually be bankrupt — if inflation does not destroy us first.

Unless America's criminal code is revamped, the criminals bid fare to render America untenable.

In Tucson, Arizona, a visiting mother of two small children was brutally assaulted. Although she was barely able to walk, or see out of her black eyes, her angry husband carried her to the police station to check the mug book in an effort to apprehend her assailant.

The battered young woman said she viewed the pictures of more than 400 convicted sex offenders who were known to be walking the city streets without finding the face she will always remember.

The husband asked a most logical question: "If they are known to be sex criminals, why are they free to attack more women?"

The authorities reluctantly admitted they literally did not have power to lock up all the sex offenders.

The irate father of two small daughters then made a very constructive suggestion: "If you don't have the capacity to incarcerate sex criminals, why don't you remove their capacity to commit sex crimes before turning them loose on society?"

The couple had gone to Tucson for an extended vacation. They packed up and fled the city that night.

But is Tucson different from any other American city of its size?

Recently a man reportedly confessed to having raped between 400 and 500 little girls under 12 years of age. When the court refused to keep him locked up, he voluntarily underwent surgery to enable him to control his criminal urges.

The skyjacker who was talked into surrendering by the wise young stewardess had already reportedly served a prison term for murder.

Doesn't a criminal code need revamping that would turn 400 known sex offenders out on one defenseless city? Free a confessed rapist of some 500 little girls? And loose a murderer in his twenties to prey again on his fellowmen?

There is little doubt that the majority of voting Americans are still honest, hardworking, God-fearing men and women.

If the President wants the support of that majority he has so often solicited, he is surely moving in the right direction when he defends the autonomy of the neighborhood school, eases the taxpayers' burdens by cutting government spending, and cracks down on criminals.

Paving Projects Set For Randall

A total of 27 miles of state highway in Randall County will be seal coated to repair surface damage caused by severe winter freezes, it was announced this week.

The Texas Highway Commission approved funding for the projects.

Seal coating will be accomplished on U.S. 87 from Spur 48 in Canyon to the Swisher County line, a total of 17 miles. Also to be seal coated is 10 miles of road in Palo Duro Canyon State Park.

Almost 10 miles of U.S. 60 west of Canyon are to be rebuilt under the contract.

An Amarillo firm was awarded contract to reconstruct 9.2 miles of the highway east from the Deaf Smith County line.

A college professor told me the other day he knows Leo Wyoming, phantom chairman of a now well known area ad hoc committee.

The professor said Leo's wife is a fine, but very reticent lady named Ann. Her reticence has caused her friends to add the nomenclature "Shy" to her first name and when you hear her referred to in most circles, it's as Shy Ann Wyoming.

Speaking of Leo, a government professor at WTSU told me Leo has shown an interest in signing up in a criminal justice course of instruction at the university.

The professor said he has mailed all the applications and appropriate forms to the Wyoming box number on campus and is anxiously waiting to see if Wyoming will sign up, and if he does, whether he'll come to class.

My three-year-old daughter has decided she wants to be either a doctor, a teacher or a fireman when she grows up.

The women's liberation movement comes home to you when you have a little girl and you're thinking about her future. I haven't the heart to tell her that if American society remains as it is today, she will probably not be able to become a doctor, a lawyer, a college administrator, or many more of dozens of occupations, much less a fireman.

During a Thursday night interdepartmental seminar attended primarily by West Texas State University faculty members, participants came face-to-face with the knotty problems involved in women's rights.

Few would argue that in terms of law, women should be afforded the same rights as men. Few would argue that in the business or industrial world, women should receive equal salaries and benefits and equal consideration.

The difficult point is what to do about the fibre of American society, the social system which through tradition and custom says (with the individual having really very little to say about it) what a woman's role will be.

The answer, I think, is to be found in patience. I have long believed that the road to equality for blacks, browns and women cannot come through overt violence, threats, protests and other acts which express an urgency or immediacy in development of solutions.

The social system will change only slowly, and the only purpose which protests and overt threats can serve is to make today's parents aware of an existing problem which they alone are capable of solving.

Only by raising my daughter to treat people without regard to color, sex, religion or national origin, to treat people according to their individual uniqueness, will I personally be able to change the social system to any degree.

So, it will come through personal involvement and commitment of parents to change or sublimate their own attitudes and pass on to their children an ability to love people for what they are and in spite of their short comings.

The prospects for WTSU getting money to fund a School of Pharmacy are dim, I fear.

Canyon Students Take Science Fair Awards

Five Canyon Junior High School and four Rex Reeves Elementary School students won awards at the 16th Annual Texas Panhandle Science Fair held in Amarillo Friday and Saturday.

It was the first time ever that all four entrants from Rex Reeves had won awards, said assistant principal Bryce Slack.

Rex Reeves winners were Robin Waide, first place in zoology; Jan Park, first place in physics; Rebecca Waide, third place in medicine and health; and Terry Davis, a special National Aeronautics and Space Administration award.

Junior high winners were Terry Tucker, first place in Girl's Botany; Barbara Brooks, third place in girl's zoology. Gene University Regents met with the lieutenant governor and the speaker of the house Friday in Austin just to try to get WTSU's next year appropriation up to previous levels.

I would say even if the coordinating board, College and University System, okays WTSU for establishment of such a school, the legislature will erasably hold out on money to do so.

The rumor is out that even though WTSU cannot yet muster enough money to pay its current faculty, staff and administration, the administration is considering or has already put the wheels in motion to name an assistant dean (another administrator) to one of the major schools on campus.

Many faculty members claim the university is already top heavy in administrators.

However, at least two schools, the School of Education and the School of Business, let it be known in their published self-studies that they believe their deans need assistance.

It's a tough problem, but one with only limited solutions in the current context of a frayed pocketbook.

Siftin' With Sands

"Nightcrawlers" Are Not Backyard "Wormhunters"

By JIM SANDS

While tromping around Buffalo Lake during the week, I chanced to bump into Tommy and Evelyn Utz of Canyon, who had set up camp alongside the water. They were just getting their fire going and their lines in for a bit of catfishing.

Tommy said they had fished the day before without catching anything but it didn't seem to deter their enthusiasm any as he expressed confidence that "today would be different."

I didn't find out later just how their luck ran that day but, like most people who chase the big ones, the Utz family probably enjoyed it just as much regardless of the fish they caught.

The same would probably be true for A.B. and Gladys Odom, who joined their Canyon friends at the campsite, and for the dozens of others who lined the bank.

Fishing, more than any other sport, is one that its followers seem to stick with regardless of how things go. Can you imagine a golfer just sitting all day and watching his number three wood? Or a bowler standing poised at the line waiting for the pins to make their move?

Happily, however, the fishing folks who have hit Buffalo Lake during its first week of action in years did not have to just sit, wait and then go home empty-handed.

According to most reports, the fishing success has been good, with several anglers hauling in the eight to 16-pound biggies stocked last fall.

Refuge Manager Paul Ferguson said 64 of the big ones were planted to supplement the 100,000-plus smaller stockers which have been dumped in during the past year or so.

Worms seem to be the going bait at the moment and as long as they are used, there should be little chance of the water again becoming overrun with rough fish.

The use of minnows, which I never considered great shakes for catfish, often introduces all sorts of fish into otherwise clean gamefish territory.

And speaking of clean... lake officials said they hoped that visitors to the area would continue to help keep trash and garbage to a minimum. Fishermen and campers, it seems, run well ahead of occasional picnics when it comes to putting litter into containers but still enough of the mess always seems to get strewn around, especially in the water where it's all but impossible to clear away.

At present, the lake area is exceptionally clean. I, along with refuge officials and most fishermen-campers, hope everyone helps keep it that way.

By the way, Tommy Utz was using some monster-size worms. I believe he called them "night-crawlers." Until then, I had always thought a nightcrawler was a guy who got out in his yard on his knees at night and crawled around looking for worms.

Letter To The Editor Reader Hits News Reports

Dear Mr. Martin:

As I read the "Letters to the Editor" of The Canyon Sunday News of April 1, I was rather appalled at the editor's comment that a "W.T. Ex-Student" is "so giddy" especially, so it seems, because he has criticized some of the reporting published in the News. Also as an ex-student of W.T., I have felt somewhat angry as I have read, for several weeks now, the sometimes derogatory remarks about the university by "an informed source." If it is names and signatures you want, how about some in this area?

Many of us who hold degrees from W.T.S.U. are quite proud of our school and of Dr. Cornette who is a very dignified, gracious and capable man and who deserves the respect of all of us. Furthermore, I cannot understand why such a large part of the population of Canyon cannot realize the value of having a university as a part of the community. As a now-resident I cannot help feeling the presence of some uninformed envy creeping in. It is no credit to The Canyon News to allow such seemingly biased reporting and perhaps unfounded criticism made toward the university or its personnel.

I wonder if both Canyon and W.T. wouldn't profit in all areas with a more positive, cooperative attitude rather than all this criticism. We of the Panhandle have a great deal to be proud of here; so for goodness sake, let's be proud of what we have and give W.T. and Canyon a chance to attract another capable man to head the university. Furthermore, let us keep the cream of the young people of our area close to home and give them a school they can be proud to stay home for.

And I sign myself,
A W.T. Ex-Student
Sandy Morgan

Miss Nelson finished first in the 440-yard dash with a time of 63.2. In the mile relay, Canyon finished second behind Panhandle, whose winning time was 4:20.0.

Team standings for the meet were, Panhandle 130 points, Canyon 72, Borger 54, Stinnett 52, Vega 52, Sunray 46, Sanford-Fritch 31, Perryton 30, Canadian 24, Tulia 19, Dumas 16 and Dumas J.Vs.

The Girl Eagles will take part in the district track meet to be held at Lubbock on Thursday.

Lake Tanglewood Posts Sought By Five Candidates

Voters in the community of Lake Tanglewood went to the polls Saturday to select three city councilmen from a field of five candidates.

Results of the election will appear in the Thursday News. Seeking the three vacancies were Jim Thomas, Jack Anderson, W.H. Gattis, G.N. Mounger and Lee Russell.

Two members of the council, Mrs. Paula Gray and Sam Hunter, along with Mayor Tom Badrow were not up for reelection this year.

Marshal John Currie was on the ballot but had no opposition. Voting was at the club house at Lake Tanglewood.

Seven From WTSU Named As Outstanding In Field

Seven West Texas State University faculty and administrators have been cited for service, achievements and leadership in the field of education by Outstanding Educators of America.

Recognition in the organization's annual awards program went to Virgil Henson, financial vice president; Dr. Ray A. Malzahn, academic vice president; Dr. Theodore D. Freidell, dean of the College of Arts and Sciences; Dr. Robert Burton, head of the geology department; Dr. Emilio Caballero, head of the art department; Dr. Duane Guy, head of the history department; and Mrs. Margaret Campbell, instructor in art.

They will be featured in the national awards volume, Outstanding Educators of America.

Henson came to West Texas State in 1936 in an administrative capacity. Last fall the Texas Legislative Budget Board named him to a seven-member committee to establish a formula for appropriations to schools with nursing programs.

He also was named by the Texas Association of Schools and Colleges Financial Officers as one of five persons to represent it in legislative matters.

Malzahn, a former research chemist at the University of Arizona, joined WTSU as an assistant professor of chemistry in 1963. He became dean of the College of Arts and Sciences in 1967 and academic vice president in 1971.

Freidell was Malzahn's successor as dean, coming to WTSU from the University of Missouri-Kansas City, where he served as associate professor of history for eight years. He has had a wide range of experience both in the academic and business worlds.

Burton, a native of Borger, has taught at West Texas State for 14 years. He received degrees from Texas Tech University and the University of New Mexico. He has authored several professional articles and has worked extensively in research.

Head of the art department for 18 of his 24 years at WTSU, Caballero is one of the outstanding artists of the Texas Panhandle. His works have been exhibited throughout the United States.

Caballero received graduate degrees, including a Ph.D., from Columbia University and is a Fellow of the Royal Society of Arts of Great Britain, founded in 1754. He was recipient of the $1,000 WTSU Faculty Excellence Award last year.

Guy has taught 15 years at WTSU and has served as department head since 1967. He received a Ph.D. from the University of Kansas.

Research projects completed by Guy include the Hay-Bunau-Varilla Treaty and the history of the Panhandle Bankers Association. He is current editor of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Review.

Mrs. Campbell was granted bachelor's and master's degrees by West Texas State and has been a member of its art faculty since 1965. She is known for her pictorial portrayals of the Southwest. She has won numerous awards of the Amarillo Fine Arts Association and the Texas Fine Arts Association.

Little League Sets Meet For Thursday

The Canyon Little League will meet at 7 p.m. Thursday at the West Texas State University fieldhouse for the purpose of collecting registration cards and fees from 8-through 12-year-old players who have not yet turned theirs in.

Team rosters and coaches for the Major League program are expected to be released following the Thursday meeting, said league president Weyman Brown.

According to Brown, the Minor Leagues will begin their program shortly after Easter.

Babe Ruth League Tryouts Are Today

Tryouts for the Babe Ruth League will be held today at 2 p.m. at the Babe Ruth field at Conner Park.

The Babe Ruth League program is for 13-, 14- and 15-year-old boys.

According to officials, the draft will be held shortly after the tryouts. Candidates will be notified of the team which drafted them.

A $5 player fee will be imposed, but officials said that all candidates would be welcome even though they were not able to pay the fee. "We don't want to exclude a boy because he can't afford the fee," said league president Bill Cooper.

Cooper also said umpires and scorekeepers are needed for the program.

Happy Runs Away With District Track Meet

Happy's high school and junior high track teams swept the District 4-B Meet held in Canyon Thursday, the varsity winning with 174 points and the juniors scoring 98.

The Cowboys took first place in five events and scored enough second and third places to put them well ahead of Amherst's 98 total.

First places came in the mile relay, 440-yard dash, 880-yard dash, mile run and high jump.

Leading the way in the individual events were Stuart Tackitt who covered the 880 yard course in 2:10.3; Greg Looney who ran the 440 in 53.9; Albert Schonenberger with a time of 4:53.6 in the mile run; and Gary Barrett who high jumped for 5 feet, eight inches.

Stuart Tackitt also finished second in the 220-yard dash with 24.5, and he was followed by his brother, Lonnie Tackitt, who copped third with a time of 25 seconds even.

Tim McNeill gained second place in the 120-yard high hurdles with a time of 16.1; Randy Bell came in second in the pole vault with a height of 10 feet, six inches; Mark Hargrave took second place in the shot put with 46-3; and Rocky Williams was third in the shot event with 43-4.

Hargrave also took second place in the discus event when he threw for 129-3. In third place in discus competition was Jim Hand with a throw of 124 feet, nine and three-quarters inches.

Teddy Offield won second place in the 440 with a time of 54.4, and third place in the 330-yard intermediate hurdles with 44.1. Pat Sims was third in the 880 at 2:16.8.

The mile relay team was made up of Stuart Tackitt, Lonnie Tackitt, Greg Looney and Johnny Payne.

Happy's 440-yard relay team, made up of Offield, Lonnie Tackitt, Payne and Looney took second place with a time of 46.9.

Behind Happy and Amherst were Lazbuddie with 73 points, Spade 45, Nazareth 28, Whitharal 26, Cotton Center 23, Pep 10, Three Way 8, and Bledsoe 6.

Ricky Seaton of Lazbuddie won three of his team's five first place ribbons. His victories were in the 120 high hurdles, 330 intermediate hurdles and the long jump.

In junior high school action, Happy, with 98 points, finished ahead of Lazbuddie with 91 points, Amherst 76, Cotton Center 75, Nazareth 50, Spade 31, Three Way 25 and Whitharal 3.

Coach Leslie Lee said he was "elated at the way they ran," and called it the best effort of the year. The meet Thursday had been the only really good day the Cowboys had had during the track season, Lee added.

"I am real proud of them... for most it was their best performance of the year," said the coach.

Ten members of the squad will take part in the regional meet to be held in Lubbock next weekend. Lee said Happy was entered in 11 of 14 events.

The Cowgirls will take part in the girls' district meet on Tuesday at Lubbock.

Miss Griffin, Hudson United In Marriage

Miss Penny Lynn Griffin became the bride of Ronald Bob Hudson in a double ring ceremony taking place Saturday evening at South Lawn Baptist Church in Amarillo. The Rev. James W. Read performed the rites.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy R. Griffin, north of Canyon.

Mr. and Mrs. Bobby N. Hudson, 2620 12th Ave., are the parents of the bridegroom.

Branched candelabra bearing blue candles and baskets of white mums decorated the altar area. The center candelabra held the memory candle which the couple lit after the ceremony to symbolize their union.

Mrs. Randy Stark was matron of honor. Other attendants were Reba Griffin, sister of the bride, Mrs. Jerry Mariner of Amarillo, and Miss Margie Tiffie, cousin of the bride, of Amarillo. Melissa Sexton of Spearman was the flower girl. The attendants wore floor-length dresses of frosty blue satin similar to the bride's. Each carried a white mum with frosty blue streamers.

The best man was Randy Stark. Groomsmen were Rickie Hudson, brother of the bridegroom, Mike Cook of Amarillo, and Mike Alexander, cousin of the bridegroom, of Amarillo. Serving as ushers were Jerry Hill, Cody Dodson, and Tracy Tension of Amarillo. Allen Griffin, cousin of the bride, of Olton was the ring bearer.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length formal bridal gown of white satin with long sleeves and wrist ruffles of miramist accented with white lace. The princess style gown was designed with high neckline and shoulder ruffles outlined in lace. Her lace-bordered veil of tulle was trimmed with the same lace as her dress. She carried a bouquet of white baby roses surrounding a white orchid, placed atop a bride's Bible.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the fellowship hall of the church. The bride's table was covered with an antique satin table skirt over which was laid a cloth of homespun linen, used for five generations of weddings in the bride's family.

After April 20 the couple will make their home in San Diego, Calif.

The bride is a 1972 graduate of Canyon High School. The bridegroom graduated from Canyon High School in 1971 and is presently serving in the U.S. Navy, stationed on the U.S.S. Dennis J. Buckley in San Diego, Calif.

Westfall-Francis Vows Exchanged

Miss San Westfall and Joe Francis exchanged marriage vows in a double ring ceremony taking place Saturday evening, March 31, in the Joseph A. Hill Chapel on the campus of West Texas State University. The Rev. Jerry Rockwell officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Westfall of 508 Holman Lane.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Francis of Kress, Texas.

Traditional wedding selections were played by Miss Sheryl Bellah at the piano.

The altar was backed with an arched candelabra holding white tapers. Spiral candelabra stood on each side. The bride party was flanked with large urns filled with red carnations and white gladioli. Seven-branch candelabra completed the floral background. The bride's gown was also marked with tall candelabra holding white tapers.

Miss Jan Westfall, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Ricky Edmondson and Miss Mary Raef, Amarillo. The attendants wore floor-length gowns of voile in red and white, designed with halter bodice and full skirt with hip ruffles. Ribbon sashes at the waistline were accented with clusters of red cherries, and clusters of cherries also decorated their wicker baskets filled with red carnations and white daisy pom poms.

Richard Francis of Friona was the best man. Groomsmen were Barry Francis, brother of the bridegroom, of Kress, and Nolan Banoke of Kress. Ushers were Charles Harris, Terry Harris, and Tom Walters of Amarillo.

The bride wore a floor-length gown of white silk organza designed with a fitted high-rise bodice overlaid with French lace, featuring a stand-up collar and sleeves of lace finished in deep scallops. The controlled skirt swept to back fullness falling from a silk bow at waistline in a chapel train. Her veil of French illusion was attached to a Juliet crown. She carried a hand cluster centered with a large white glamelia outlined with green ivy foliage and white stephanotis blossoms, tied with satin streamers.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Canyon Community Center. Afterwards, the couple left for a wedding trip, the bride wearing a yellow pantsuit.

The bride is a graduate of Canyon High School and attended West Texas State University.

The bridegroom graduated from Kress High School and also attended West Texas State University, where he was a member of Phi Delta Theta fraternity.

The couple plan to make their home at Route 1, Kress, Texas.

Mrs. Joe Francis, nee San Westfall

Organist Schultz To Present Recital

Amarillo Alumnae and Alpha Nu Chapters of Mu Phi Epsilon will present Lorna Schultz in an organ recital, Saturday, April 14, at 3:30 p.m. in the Sanctuary of Polk Street Methodist Church. This program is the first in the 1973-74 series.

Mrs. Schultz received the Bachelor of Music degree from St. Olaf's College, did graduate work in organ and church music at the University of Michigan, and received the Master of Arts degree in organ from West Texas State University. She is organist for St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Canyon and is presently Chapter Advisor for Alpha Nu Chapter.

French, North German, English, Italian, and American composers are represented in the program. Selections to be played will be Choral in B Minor, Cesar Franck; Bergamasca, Girolamo Frescobaldi; Prelude and Fugue in D Major, Dietrich Buxtehude; Offertoire for Easter, Francois Dandrieu; Voluntary in A Minor, John Stanley; and Pageant, Leo Sowerby.

The public is invited to attend.

VOE Students To Give Banquet

The Vocational Office Education class will be giving their Annual Employer-Employee Banquet on Monday, April 9, at the Community Center to show their appreciation to the employers supporting the program.

Entertainment will be by the Canyon High School Show Choir under the direction of Tom Jennings. Employers will be recognized and awards will be presented to the outstanding OEA and VOE students.

Employers attending will be W. T. Conoco Station, Ideal Foods, Williams, Etc., Neblett Memorial Hospital, Dan's Fifth Avenue Shop, Cheatham Clothiers, Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. in Amarillo, Cooper's Thriftway, Orkin Exterminating Co. in Amarillo, Haley Printing and Office Supply, Western Auto Associates, M.E. Moses, the Randall County Tax Offices in Canyon and Amarillo, First National Bank, Taco Tienda, American Quarterhorse Assn. in Amarillo, and the Counselor's Office at Canyon Junior High School, and Dr. Joel R. Coker of Amarillo.

The dinner will be catered by Sutphen's in Amarillo.

Delta Zetas Glean Awards

The WTSU chapter of Delta Zeta sorority returned with many awards from attending Delta Zeta State Day held March 24-25 in Houston.

The active Delta Zeta chapter won honors for best pledge trainer, Beverly Chisolm; best sis-little sis coordinator, DeAnn Schadt; best philanthropy chairman, Sue Shellhaus; Katie Blanche Stallworth "Adventures in Friendship" Award, first place; and best pressbook award, first place.

Awards received by Canyon Delta Zeta Alumnae chapter were Best Yearbook, first place; Best Scrapbook and Display, first place; and Outstanding Alumnae Chapter President, Mrs. Don Olson.

About 500 women and collegians participated in the conference at the Shamrock Hilton Hotel in Houston.

Saturday's activities included a welcome by the Houston alumnae chapter, three workshop sessions, and an evening banquet with song competition. Sunday's schedule featured an awards breakfast beginning at 8:30 a.m.

Miss Carpenter Has Opera Role

Candiss Carpenter will be appearing at 3 p.m. today in the role of Magda in Gian Carlo Menotti's "The Consul." The opera will be presented in Red-bud Auditorium on the campus of Texas Woman's University, where Miss Carpenter is a sophomore voice major.

"The Consul," which concerns life in a police state, won the New York Drama Critics Award and a Pulitzer Prize in 1949. The TWU production is produced and conducted by Joan Wall, former member of the Metropolitan Opera in New York, presently head of voice and opera at TWU. The TWU Symphony will be joined by members of the Fort Worth Symphony to accompany the work.

Miss Carpenter, a 1971 graduate of Canyon High School, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Carpenter, Jr., of Canyon. The soprano has won many honors, both state and national, and was the first freshman ever to be named Outstanding Performer at Texas Women's University.

Methodist Men Plan Breakfast

The men of the First United Methodist Church will meet for their April Prayer Breakfast on Tuesday, April 10, at 6:30 a.m. in the fellowship hall of the First United Methodist Church.

Dr. Robert Burton of the geology department of West Texas State University will be the inspirational speaker, using as his topic "The Sixth Day."

Austin Bowes will be in charge of the breakfast. Dr. Dudley Moore will lead in the singing of hymns. The Methodist Men's Sweetheart, Miss Sheryl Bellah, will provide piano music.

Fosters Announce Birth Of Son

Sp. 5 and Mrs. Jack Foster of Honolulu, Hawaii, have sent news to relatives here of the birth of their new baby son, Abraham, on April 3. The infant weighed 7 lbs. 11 1/2 ozs. at birth.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Foster of Canyon are the paternal grandparents, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Foster of Happy are great-grandparents.

Abraham is the young couple's first child. The father attended Canyon schools and is now serving in the U.S. Army.

News Brief

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Urioste of Amarillo are parents of a new baby daughter, Nichol Dawn, born March 23 at Neblett Memorial Hospital. She weighed 7 lbs. 7 ozs. at birth and was 20 inches long.

Mr. and Mrs. A.R. Friemel of Umbarger are the maternal grandparents.

The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Ben Urioste of Boise City, Okla.

Nichol Dawn is the Urioste's first child.

Student Initiated In Sorority

Brenda Counsellor, Canyon sophomore, was one of nine coeds initiated into Kappa Delta national social sorority for the spring semester at West Texas State University.

Miss Counsellor, an elementary education major, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W.V. Counsellor of 2600 12th Ave., Canyon.

Canyon junior, Terri Donovan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Donovan, 2604 9th Ave., was elected Panhellenic Council delegate for the sorority. She is a speech and hearing therapy major.

Other members of the pledge class are Kim Seay of Dallas, Rexan Christian of Stratford, Julie Fisher of Vernon, Sherry Fikes of Olney, Gwen Pearson of Paducah, Dell Bailey of Ft. Sumner, N.M., Jean Newton of Altus, Okla., and Janet Cullers of Shamrock.

Dumas junior Alice Laub was elected Kappa Delta president. Other officers are vice president Cindy McLane of Denver City, secretary Janet Burt of Seagraves, treasurer Vicki Summers of Amarillo, assistant treasurer Rene Harwood of Pampa, editor Kay Kirkendall of Crosbyton, and membership chairman Gail Heil of Stratford.

Jill Rogers, Wylie freshman, will serve as a delegate to the Panhellenic Council.

Schools Plan Summer Courses

Canyon schools are now working on plans for summer school, tentatively set to begin June 4 and run through July 13.

School officials said classes are expected to include all areas of special education, plus remedial reading and math for elementary students.

The high school and junior high school are planning to offer some courses for students who have failed or who need to do make-up work.

Tuition at the elementary level will be $18.50 for reading or math. Students taking special education work will only be required to pay a $2.50 materials fee, officials said.

Fees for the high school and junior high courses, not yet arrived at, will be comparable to other area summer school fees.

According to administrators, plans cannot be finalized until it is known how many students are interested in attending. Parents will be contacted by the schools within the next few weeks to determine the number of students who will attend.

German Film At University

A German film adaptation of a Gerhart Hauptmann play is scheduled to be screened at 8 p.m. Monday in room 101 of the West Texas State University Complex South.

"The Sins of German Bernd," to be presented in German with English subtitles, is the second offering on the WT modern language department's foreign film series.

The film stars the award-winning actress Maria Schell, who portrays an unfortunate farm girl who is seduced by her married employer, attacked by a laborer, and sought for marriage by an honest printer. Direction is by Wolfgang Spaudte.

Admission to the film showing is by membership in the modern language department. Memberships, priced at $1, are available from any member of the modern language department. They will also be sold at the door.

WT Official To Be Panelist

A West Texas State University president will be among a handful of college administrators to appear on the program for the 56th annual meeting of the Association of Texas Colleges and Universities.

Dr. Ray A. Malzahn, vice president for academic affairs, will be one member of a two-man panel reporting on transfer credit during the two-day meeting today and Friday in Dallas.

Theme for the meetings is "Non-Traditional Academic Programs."

Folk Singer On Stage At University

Midwestern folk singer Gene Cotton will be featured in concert at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the West Texas State University Activities Center ballroom.

Cotton, who has four albums on the Nashville label, is appearing as part of the Student Activities Council's (SAC) New Artist Series.

The new concept in SAC entertainment will be characterized by an "intimate come-as-you-are atmosphere," says program advisor Vicki Foster.

Cotton began his career in folk music clubs in the Midwest in 1962 while attending Ohio State University, where he majored in political science. From there he went to New York, where he performed in Greenwich Village coffeehouses.

For the last three years he has toured from coast to coast, performing on college and high school campuses. He recently headed his own USO show which toured the Orient.

Tickets for his WTSU appearance are priced at $1.50 for the general public and $1 for WTSU students with Activity Cards. Tickets are on sale at the Activities Center and will be available at the door.

"The Bald Soprano" In Regional Contest

"The Bald Soprano," a one-act comedy that last week took top University Scholastic League honors for Canyon High School's speech and drama department at Clarendon Junior College, will be presented in regional competition at Odessa next Friday.

The play was seen by the public Saturday night, along with a one-act mystery, "The House Without Windows," at the high school auditorium.

In addition to winning first place in district competition, Canyon also was honored by the selection of cast member Vern DeWees as Best Actor of the contest.

Three other members of the cast, Gary Cox, Carol Robinson and Julie Brantley, were named to the district's All-Star cast.

John Boone and Lauran Fulton rounded out the six-member cast of the award-winning comedy, which was directed by speech and drama instructor Charles Wright.

The one-act mystery, directed by school counselor Carroll Killingsworth, offered a cast of seven. They were Lois Kelln, Kenny Barton, Debbie Roberts, Jamey Gallemore, Miles Raillard, Terry Jo Reynolds, Kelly Forehand and Larry Caviness.

Assisting director Killingsworth was student Kitty Murray.

News Brief

A Canyon native, Richard Burgess, has been named salesman of the month as he topped the entire U.S. sales staff in March for Braniff International.

Burgess graduated from Canyon High School and received a bachelor's degree in 1963 from West Texas State University.

His mother, Mrs. T.E. Burgess, is a Canyon resident.

The play, along with a one-act mystery, "The House Without Windows," was presented at the high school Saturday night, and will be presented in regional UIL competition at Odessa Friday afternoon.

D.A. Plans Rehearing On Grain Theft

Dist. Atty. George Dowlen said last week he will file a motion for rehearing in the case of a Randall County man whose conviction for grain theft was overturned earlier by the Court of Criminal Appeals.

Dowlen said he will file the motion in the case of Frankie O'Donald, convicted here in August 1971 of theft of grain from Randall County Feedyard.

The Court of Criminal Appeals reversed the local district court verdict early last week. O'Donald had been sentenced to six years in the state penitentiary.

"The court relied on two cases on which they had ruled within the last six months," Dowlen said. "That's some eight or nine months after the O'Donald case had been filed."

The case was reversed, Dowlen said, on the grounds that the state did not prove a theft had been committed and the only evidence of a crime was presented through an accomplice.

Dowlen said he will file the motion for a rehearing because he feels the facts in the case are substantially different from the cases cited by the Court in their reversal opinions.

Dowlen also received word last week that the Court of Criminal Appeals had upheld the verdict in the case of Andy Sanchez, who was convicted of possession of heroin in a Randall County court in December 1971 and sentenced to six years in the penitentiary.

Sanchez, who has been a trusty in the Randall County jail since after his trial, will be taken to Huntsville soon.

He was arrested in a drug raid by Metro Intelligence Unit officers.

Students at Rex Reeves Elementary School found the weather perfect as they raced against each other and the clock Friday morning. It was one of the few days this spring that such activities have been possible.

Mayfield Pleased With Buffs During Practice

West Texas State University football coach Gene Mayfield was generally pleased with the performance of his squad after its second week of spring drills.

Cold, wet weather limited the number of practice sessions during the two-week period, but the head coach said the Buffaloes had not had a bad practice yet.

The Buffaloes scrimmaged for the first time Saturday afternoon, after going through back to back drills Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

"The biggest encouragement of the early practices has been the play of some of the freshmen," said Mayfield. "Some of these players are making strong bids for starting births and others are making runs at being the backup men in front of some veterans."

Offensively, Mayfield named tight end Jeff Loyd of Emporium, Pa., guard Jackie White of Lamesa, tackle John Jacobi of Electra, split end Mike Lozano of Amarillo, Caprock and quarterback Mike Adams of Big Spring as freshmen who had made good showings.

"Of course, backs Clois Burgess, Rick Schleider and Mickey Matthews are other freshmen who are showing well on offense," said Mayfield. All three of those athletes played on the varsity this past fall.

On the defensive side of the line, Mayfield pointed to tackle Mike Diehrich of Lockney, tackle Mike Crawford of Amarillo, tackle Ted DiBiase of Wilcox, Ariz., end Steve Gobin of Perryton, linebacker Ben Colbert of Dewey, Okla., linebacker Mike Podzemny and corner back Aaron Gilbreath of Amarillo as freshmen who are performing with high quality.

Junior college transfer defensive backs Dennis Little and Rick Mordecai have shown well in early drills. Red-shirt transfers John Ayers, a defensive nose guard, and Larry Bates, a defensive end, have also made good showings. Ayers transferred from the University of Texas and sat out last fall, while Bates sat out after transferring from SMU. Bates was an all-state linebacker for Mayfield's 1970 Odessa Permian state finalist football team.

German Club Seeks Members

Area residents and students who have an interest in German language and culture now have the opportunity to join a club devoted to recognition of those attributed.

Der Deutsche Verein, the German Club, is expanding its membership into the area from its Amarillo base, according to Mrs. Annaliese Ender.

The club has a social event each month and a business meeting each month.

Currently it has about 30 members. More information may be obtained from Mrs. Gordon Thomas at 352-6925.

S.P.R.Y. Plans Thurs. Meeting

S.P.R.Y. Club will meet Thursday afternoon, April 12, at First United Methodist Church. Mrs. Lillie Hundley, a retired missionary, will bring the devotional. Hostesses will be Mrs. W.R. Matsler and Miss Louella Patterson. Table games will be served and a dessert will be served.

All interested persons in the area are invited to attend the meeting. Transportation may be arranged by calling 655-3540.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED AN ACT

relating to the establishment of the Randall County Juvenile Board and the juvenile probation department; maintaining in office those persons serving as juvenile officers on the effective date of this Act; and declaring an emergency.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. The Juvenile Board of Randall County is created, and is composed of the judges of the district courts having jurisdiction in Randall County and the county judge.

Section 2. The Juvenile Board shall create the Juvenile Court and shall appoint the Judge of the Juvenile Court, who shall serve as the chairman of the Juvenile Board and shall be its chief administrative officer.

Section 3. There shall be one chief probation officer who shall be appointed by the Juvenile Board. The chief probation officer shall appoint a sufficient number of assistants and other employees to carry on the professional, clerical, and other work of the juvenile court, subject to the approval of the Juvenile Board.

Section 4. The Juvenile Board is authorized, with the advice and consent of the commissioners court, to employ and designate the titles and fix the salaries of probation officers and such administrative, supervisory, stenographic, clerical, and other personnel as may be necessary.

Section 5. The Juvenile Board shall have direction and control over all juvenile officers and may make rules and regulations to implement that direction and control.

Section 6. The Juvenile Board shall have authority to require and approve a good and sufficient surety or personal bond for the faithful performance of duty of any juvenile officer. In such sum as may be determined by the board.

Section 7. Probation officers shall be furnished transportation, or alternatively, shall be entitled to an automobile allowance for use of personal automobile on official business, under the same terms and conditions as provided for sheriffs.

Section 8. Nothing in this Act shall be construed to affect the status of a person serving as juvenile officer or assistant juvenile officer on the effective date of this Act or to require a new appointment of the officers during their current terms of office.

Section 9. For the added duties hereby imposed on the members of the board, the commissioners court of the county may allow the members of the board compensation from the county general fund. This compensation shall be received by the members of the

Two other conditions are also causing problems for cattle producers in the county—nitrate poisoning and wheat poisoning.

Nitrate poisoning can occur when the following essential elements are present or prevalent—long spell of cloudy weather, cold temperatures, plants growing in shade, restricted water, and damage to plants.

If there is reason to suspect a nitrate buildup due to the aforementioned conditions, samples of the forage should be sent to a laboratory qualified to do this analysis," Dr. Cope said.

Wheat poisoning is a problem found mainly in cows heavy with calf or cows which have just calved.

The cows need to be fed two ounces of magnesium oxide per head per day either in a salt mineral mix or in the grain ration.

Regents. . .

Regents also discussed Friday a bill formulated by Sen. Max Sherman of Amarillo to change the geographical requirements for the make-up of the board of regents.

Sherman had asked the Regents for their recommendations on the bill, which had been suggested to him by Briscoe.

Briscoe had wished to appoint another Regent from the Amarillo area to replace Boone Pickens who recently resigned.

But, he could not because of a statute which limits the number of Regents from Amarillo's senatorial district to two.

In discussion during the meeting, Box noted that more Regents from the immediate area of the university would result in "better representation of and better communication with the Amarillo community."

"We need those people's community's help to do some of the things we need to do," he added.

Although Box had originally suggested the Board recommend that the bill simply allow one or two additional Regents be named from the 31st District, Regent Curry objected that all geographical limitations should be erased.

Current law requires that Regents be picked from all over the state.

No decision on the board stand was taken, since only a suggestion and not a resolution had been requested by Sherman.

All agreed, however, they are in favor of a law allowing more board members to be appointed from the Amarillo area.

In other action, the board: * Rescinded the $2 night only parking fee for students parking on campus only at night. The action is in effect this semester.

* Changed several provisions of the general policy statements on student life.

* Removed the requirements that all students admitted to WTSU file a medical records form with the dean of admissions.

office wall on the West Texas State University campus with a large poster of King Kong atop the Empire State Building.

But, he takes a serious attitude when discussing his role in city government, a role he's anxious to become involved in.

He admits he hasn't yet studied the stacks of material given him by City Manager George Louder, a former student of his, but he does have some general ideas about how the city should be run.

"With the type of government we have—the council-manager form—I feel we have been very fortunate to have had a series of excellent city managers," he said. "The management of the city has been very professional and I'm sure it will continue to be very professional."

Stephens believes the key to successful operation of the city government is the city manager and his abilities.

He views his own role as a policy setter.

On specific topics, Stephens said he thinks the city should strive to cooperate as much as possible with all governmental units in the area.

He thinks Canyon must cooperate to a great extent with the City of Amarillo.

He agrees with the basic concept of the Metro Intelligence Unit as an example of this cooperation.

Canyon's newest commissioner grew up on a cotton farm near Post, Texas. Graduating from Post High School, he left the farm in 1954 when he was drafted into the Army.

After a two-year stint in the Washington, D.C. area, Stephens decided to come to WTSU for college.

He received his bachelor's degree in government in 1960, his masters in 1962 and his doctorate in 1970 from the University of Missouri.

From 1960-1963 he taught English and history in two Amarillo junior high schools and one Amarillo high school.

In 1963, he joined the government staff at WTSU.

He and his wife, Jane, have two children, Jennifer, 3, and Rob, 21 months.

question of transferability of the common stock of Agricultural Computing Company.

The suits were filed separately in late September and were later consolidated for the court action.

The plaintiffs alleged that on or about the 20th of September 1968, Knowles deliberately deceived the plaintiffs by purportedly entering into a contract to sell the plaintiffs 1000 shares of Agricultural Computing Co. stock for $4000.

Knowles was not a stockholder at the time of the sale and is not now a stockholder in the company, the suits alleged. The plaintiffs alleged he represented himself as a stockholder.

The plaintiffs sought about $28,000 in recovery and damages.

Knowles said in his answer to the suits that he sold the plaintiffs the stock with the express understanding that the stock could not be transferred to them until transfer restrictions were lifted on the stock.

He said in his answer he and Vars and Montgomery acting as a partnership had bought the stock from an original stockholder with the same understanding that the stock certificates could not be transferred until restrictions on the transferability were lifted.

Knowles alleged the plaintiffs purchased the stock on a speculative basis hoping the company would be able to go public at which time the stock could be transferred. They expected, he alleged, to make a substantial profit on the stock when it went public.

The company, however, was not able to go public, he alleged, and the plaintiffs realized no profit.

Vars and Montgomery were named in the suit in late December.

Women. . .

she said, by big business, big government and big labor.

"If it passes it is questionable what effect it will have," she said.

Mrs. Green said many current groups of women fighting for equal rights believe the true enemy is capitalism or the capitalist system, which has as inherent a role for women as homemakers.

She outlined what she believes to be the problems of women and asked rhetorically why women should be made to feel guilty if they don't want to pursue the traditional roles as housewives and mates.

McNair contended that the reality of the American situation prescribes that equal rights for women will be very hard to come by.

He said if the basic value commitment in the women's rights movement is personal fulfillment, then women need to face the fact that most jobs in America are not personally fulfilling for anybody.

They must also face the fact that American society and industry simply is not capable of handling a great influx of working women.

In the discussion which followed, it was almost the men against the women.

Most of the men present admitted they believe that in legal terms, women should be granted equal rights with men.

But, they and the women present were at a loss to define a workable solution to the socially imposed problems of changing woman's role in American society.

The interdepartmental seminars are conducted monthly for WTSU faculty members and guests interested in academic subjects.

Liquor. . .

The small convenience grocery store is just across Wimberly from the proposed package store location.

"I don't know that I could answer that," responded Pond.

After hearing the objections, Pond said he would postpone a decision until next Friday afternoon.

The Friday hearing protest marked the first objection lodged against licensing of liquor stores or any other action involving approval of alcoholic beverage sales in the county since voters in the South Amarillo precincts voted to okay sales in their areas.

Since that time more than two dozen hearings have been conducted.

C Of C Breakfast Set For Thursday

A breakfast for the membership and their guests of the Chamber of Commerce will be held from 6:45 a.m. to 7:50 a.m. Thursday in the Canyon Community Center.

No program is planned for the informal breakfast which will feature brief promotional talks concerning Canyon tourist promotion.

Women 11. . .

Then Mrs. Caldwell softened the audience up a little more with funny anecdotes about her and "Chuck," her husband ("I wish you could know him—you would just love Chuck").

One of the stories was about being mistaken at an airport for Phyllis Diller: "I kept saying, 'No, I am NOT Phyllis Diller.' And then Chuck leaned over and said, 'Yes, she is, and I'm Fang.'"

Everyone roared as she pantomimed a couple of other absurd situations, the kind that could happen to almost any woman. One was about being tossed around aboard a plane during a rough flight, ending up in a strange man's lap. Another was about wandering into a men's restroom and, going out, encountering two men she later found seated in her banquet audience.

The talk then took on inspirational overtones, becoming more serious. "As we think about the excitement of being alive, I would like to say I hear a lot of people talk about the good old days. Man, I don't want the good old days — being alive today is an exciting challenge. But you know, some people wake up every day an say, 'Good morning, Lord.' Others wake up and say, 'Good Lord, it's morning.'"

Finally, Marge Caldwell was ready to begin on her real message for the evening, which was "the four sides you — the physical, mental, spiritual, and emotional sides."

The fifty-ish harm expert launched into the physical side of woman first. "The way we stand and the way we walk just says out loud the kind of people we are. . . . Some people say they are victorious, but look defeated."

Again she slid into humorous monologue, mimicking types of women. "Then there is the kind who wants to attract attention. She has a kind of sling to her shoulders like this, and the walk goes with it. I always want to say, Honey, I think you left your motor running."

Expressing relief that it was no longer fashionable to be dirty, the speaker said, "But I am so glad you young people pointed the way to us adults to take off the trappings."

Regarding sex, Mrs. Caldwell declared God had invented it, although a lot of young people thought they had. "In junior high school, they are very surprised that I even know about it."

The mind, she went on to say, is like a computer. "Everything you put into it is what you get out of it. There is so much trash in this world. I hope you will be very selective about what you put in your mind." She added she didn't think there was "anything worse in the world than a girl that lets filth come out of her mouth."

From there, Mrs. Caldwell went on and cautioned the young people present about "blowing their minds" with drugs. While research had shown marijuana was not physically addictive, she said, it had been shown to be psychologically addictive. "I work with drop-outs, cop-outs, and bandits in Houston, and I cannot tell you how many of them are heroin addicts I work with. And I have not talked with any who have not started with pot." She described seeing a newborn baby having withdrawal convulsions.

Emotions, the speaker reminded the women students, can be misleading. "Determine what kind of woman you really want to be. . . . Our emotional life can trip us up."

Spiritually, Marge Caldwell said, she was not talking about the church one went to, but her relationship with God. "I would wish for you that you will seek the truth. Seek the truth every day and you will become truthful. You will have integrity."

She continued, "Any woman can misuse her body with sex, drugs, or booze. Any man can. It takes absolute nothing to do that—but who wants to live in a world doing absolutely nothing when there is so much to do?"

The grandmotherly lecturer and youth worker gave a final admonition, "Ask God to help you and you will become the woman you always wanted to be."

Truck Stop Sold
In Canyon

Griffin Truck Stop in Canyon changed ownership Friday during a public auction which saw the highest auction price paid for a piece of real property in the city.

The truck stop property sold for $55,000 to Roy Reynolds, prominent Randall County farmer. Rex Griffin, long-time owner of the truck stop, has leased the property and will continue to manage the operation.

C Of C Breakfast Set For Thursday

Two door prizes—of $15 and $25—will be awarded to Chamber members and their guests.

The breakfast is sponsored by West Texas State Bank and is free to all members and their guests.

John Childs will be emcee for the breakfast, which will feature piano entertainment.

Young singing stars of "Operetta Tonight" are shown above. They are, left to right, Lawrence Scrobacs, Lynne Mary Prevot, Richard Barrett, and Kris Karlowski. The program, in concert form with touches of staging to underscore the story situation, will be at 8 p.m., April 10, in the Canyon High School Auditorium.

Accent on the Arts

By JUNE DAYEN

GABOR REJTO, ONE of the most highly regarded cellists in the world, appears this afternoon at 3 p.m. in concert at the Fine Arts Theatre on the WTSU campus. This performance is made possible by the music department and Special Programs Committee.

Now chairman of the string department at the university of Southern California, the noted artist has appeared with the Vienna Symphony, the Budapest Symphony, the Rome Philharmonic and other major orchestras in Europe. A one time student of Pablo Casals, he came to this country in 1939 and has since served as head of the string department at Eastman as well as toured with several string ensembles.

Rejto received the 1972 Artist-Teacher of the Year Award of the American String Teachers Association.

"CARNIVAL" BEGINS

AGAIN Tuesday, April 10, and continues through Friday the 13th with curtain time at 8 p.m.

The musical has a unique opening which coincides with the appearance of Professor Schlegel's traveling carnival. As the roustabouts and performers arrive on the scene, the tents are raised and the aerialist's high ladder soars skyward amid their shouts and hoopla. The setting for the musical is created right before the audience's eyes.

THE AMARILLO FINE Arts Association, which includes many Canyon residents, is making ready for its Annual Spring Citation Show which opens April 15 in Western Plaza. According to Mrs. Janet Blasdel, president, about one of every fifteen of the 200 to 300 works hung in the exhibit will be sent on to Austin to compete in the State Citation Show in Austin in August. The judge will be Sherwood Sutor, an artist and teacher from Abilene.

BRENT TRUITT, AN Odessa Junior College Student, won the top award for his division in Matrix I — a scholarship to be applied at WTSU next fall, presented by the Amarillo Fine Arts Association.

CHEERS FOR THE speech and drama department of Canyon High School whose play, "The Bald Soprano," won first place in the district University Interscholastic League's one act play contest held at Clarendon Junior College last Tuesday.

Winning individual honors were Vern DeWees, Gary Cox, Carol Robinson, and Julie Brantley. Other members of the cast were John Boone and Lauran Fulton, and it was directed by Charles Wright, speech and drama instructor. Many saw it here at the high school last night.

ONE OF CANYON'S talented residents, Mrs. Mary Ada Ritchie, supervised the staging of a fashions show this past Tuesday evening at Amarillo College. Eleven stores in Amarillo furnished the fashions which her students in Fashion Retail and Merchandising modeled.

"OPERETTA TONIGHT" PROMISES a delightful evening of favorite light opera arias, beginning at 8 p.m., Tuesday. The young stars will sing many of those old refrains that years ago pulled on our heartstrings, including songs from "Roberta,"

"The Merry Widow," "New Moon," "Show Boat," "Porgy and Bess," "The Desert Song," and others.

This is last in the Community Concert Association series, and admission is by season ticket.

TWO SENIOR RECITALS

are scheduled for this week in the Fine Arts Building. David Groves performs in a trumpet recital at 4 p.m., Monday afternoon, and on Wednesday afternoon at 4 p.m., Dan Green on euphonium and Terry Williams on bassoon will present a joint recital.

ARTIST DORIS BOLES, now exhibiting in the Formal Lounge of the Fine Arts Building says, "Art is just another means of communication, and if I have anything to say I hope it is a pleasant thought." Her paintings of large open fields, sunny woods, and quiet streams do indeed seem to impart a peaceful feeling. The acrylic and plastic abstracts are very decorative, too.

MARY LOU FARNHAM proved to be an impresario par excellence in creating a lively "Woman of the Year" program. The music, food, talk, and, in fact, the whole idea was smoothly executed. Miss Farnham, assistant dean of women, introduced each nominee with a quotation about women coming from the mouths and pens of famous men. She said she had found most humorous or derogatory, but managed to use them to dramatize the assets of the girls named. Laura Childers, lovely and bright president of Associated Women Students, was finally heralded as "Woman of the Year."

ON THE SAME evening, Dr. John Godfrey of the WTSU English department showed his slides of England to an audience of AAUW members and guests. His pictures definitely show the artist's touch, but what makes them so enjoyable to view is Dr. Godfrey's witty commentary loaded with information on English history and literature.

TFWC CLUBWOMEN

WERE arranging their Arts and Crafts Exhibit in the Senate Room of the Activities Center as this column went to the printing room. A glimpse of quilts, framed needlepoint, and tote work gave only a hint of how interesting the show would be. Mrs. Charles Smallwood was in charge.

TFWC Hears Dr. Townsend
Talk On "The American"

"Who, then, is this American, this new man?" Dr. Charles Townsend asked his audience of 200 women Friday night.

Then, stressing he believes his speech takes the moderate approach, Townsend, a professor of government at West Texas State University, told women attending the Top 'O Texas Federated Women's Clubs banquet exactly what he believes the American is.

Drawing his material from the writings and observations of Europeans and early-day Americans, Townsend presented a lengthy list of attributes of Americans, attributes which show the American in a favorable and unfavorable light.

"Above all," Townsend said, "the American is a revolutionist, a reformist and one who protests."

Reflecting on the violent times of the 1960s, Townsend said revolution, reform and protest rank along with motherhood and apple pie as truly American attributes.

The American nation was founded through revolution and the rights guaranteed by those early revolution

University Wives View Latest Spring Fashions

A Spring Fashion Show staged Saturday noon at the Yum Yum Tree restaurant by University Wives, Etc., attracted about 120 members and guests.

Mrs. Kenneth Olsen, chairman, welcomed guests and introduced Mr. Munday, vice-president and fashion director for White & Kirk-Sakowitz of Amarillo, who narrated the show. His models paraded warm-weather styles ranging from casual pantsuits to long "after-five" gowns, including originals by such designers as Saint Laurent. Originals and copies of shirtwaist dresses by Halston and beads by Saint Laurent were representative of new fashion trends.

University Wives, Etc., members who assisted with the fashion show were Mmes. Jeanie Buckley, Thelma Ruth Childs, Mary Truitt, Imogene Crossland, Sheila Kirtz, Lee Ann Workman, Jan Charles, Margaret Kelso, Lynn Guy, Bonnie Oliver, Jane Bailey, Claudine Lehman, Lou Higgins, Anne McLaughlin, Jean Burton, Mildred Cannon, Julia Chastain, Lois Sullivan, and Miss Shannon Smyre.

Slaton Coed Named "Woman Of Year"

Laura K. Childers, 21, senior from Slaton, was named Woman of the Year at West Texas State University Thursday night.

Miss Childers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard V. Childers of 140 N. 5th, Slaton, was selected by committee from 16 other coeds nominated by campus organizations.

Woman of the Year is sponsored by the Associated Women Students. Miss Childers, a mathematics education major, currently is president of AWS.

Lynn DeGeer, 22, senior physical education major, formerly of Phillips, was runner-up and was presented a special recognition plaque. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Don DeGeer Jr., of Morgan City, La.

Miss Childers, who has a 2.4 grade point average on a 3.0 basis, is a member of Alpha Chi, national scholastic honor society, and Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

She is president of Alpha Delta Pi social sorority and past president of Shirley Hall, women's dormitory. She also was a member of Lambda Mu, mathematics club, Panhellenic Council, Student Activities Council, Women's Residence Hall Council and Student Union board.

The $200 Ruth Cross Scholarship, named in honor of a retired dean of women at WTSU, was presented Dolores A. Caviness, 42, junior business education major from Canyon.

A $50 grant was awarded Beverly Ann Colbert, 19, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Nunnally of 611 Ave. H SE, Childers, and a sophomore biology major. Her husband, Charles, also is a student at West Texas State.

Jury Deadlocked On Punishment

After months of waiting and two trials, Larry A. Cate of Amarillo is no closer to knowing his fate than he was when first arrested last October in a massive drug raid in Amarillo.

An 8-woman, 4-man jury deliberated five hours Friday before telling Judge Don Dean they could not reach a decision on punishment for Cate, who pleaded guilty to a charge of sale of marijuana Friday morning.

Dean declared a mistrial and has not yet set another trial date. It was the second mistrial declared in Cate's case. The first occurred about a month ago when, in the course of his trial, Dist. Atty. George Dowlen introduced evidence objected to and sustained by Dean.

Cate, who is on 10 years probation after conviction for sale of marijuana, pleaded not guilty Thursday afternoon to the charge.

In his prior trial, he had also pleaded not guilty.

But, Friday morning, he changed his plea and asked the jury to set his punishment.

The jury heard testimony during the morning concerning punishment.

Undercover Agent Tom Hefner told jurors he bought a lid of marijuana from Cate on June 14, 1972 for $12.

Before noon, the jury retired to consider punishment in the case.

At one point during their deliberations, they passed a note to Judge Dean saying they were hopelessly divided.

It was after 6 p.m. Friday when they again told the judge they were deadlocked.

Public Hearing For Feedlot Set Tuesday

A public hearing has been scheduled Tuesday for an application by Happy Wheat Growers Inc. of Happy for an amendment to its waste control order for their feedlot operation 16 miles southeast of Canyon.

The hearing will be at 10 a.m. at the Bi-City-County Health Unit in Amarillo.

If the feedlot application is approved, wastewaters from the feedlot operation, now expanded to 45,000 head of cattle, would be collected in a playa lake and used for irrigation.

The application is pending with the Texas Water Quality Board.

"Time To Run" Begins Wednesday

The religious film, "Time to Run," starring a former West Texas State University student, will begin showing at the Olympic Theatre Wednesday, continuing through Saturday.

Randall Carver, who graduated from WTSU in 1968 as a speech major, is the star of the movie which depicts a father-son conflict.

The film was produced by World Wide Pictures for the Billy Graham organization.

Young Carver, who has also appeared in television roles, performed in the musical drama "TEXAS" while a student in Canyon.

Also starring in the film is Ed Nelson, who starred in television's Peyton Place.

Lt. Col. John Childs, who is heading sponsorship of the film in Canyon, said the movie depicts a basic youth conflict which is resolved through Jesus Christ.

Show times for the Canyon showing are 7 p.m. and 9:15 p.m. nightly. A matinee will be held Saturday at 1:30 p.m.

Tickets purchased in advance of the opening date are $1 each and may be obtained at the First National Bank, West Texas State Bank or the WTSU book store.

Tickets purchased at the door will be $1.25 for adults and 75 cents for children.

Attending the Spring Fashion Show given Saturday, March 31, by University Wives, Etc., were Mrs. Larry Cook, Mrs. John Godfrey, Mrs. Huelyn Laycock, and Mrs. Emmitt Smith. The style show and luncheon were held at the Yum Yum Tree restaurant.

WT Profs Hold "Bargaining" Courses

In anticipation of the probability that public employees will have the right to collective bargaining in Texas in the near future, two West Texas State University professors are conducting three seminar courses on the ramifications of collective bargaining.

Dr. J. Pat Stephens and George Ritter, professors of government at WTSU, have received funding through the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission to present three courses to public officials on the current status of collective bargaining in other states and in Texas.

Last week, the two presented their three-day offering to department heads and front-line supervisors from the City of Amarillo.

"We're trying to acquaint these people with collective bargaining," Stephens said Friday.

The government professor noted that a major bill now is pending action in the Texas legislature which would allow firemen and policemen to the right of collective bargaining.

He said there are several other bills pending in Texas which would extend the basic bill to cover other public employees.

He said 17 states have approved collective bargaining and compulsory arbitration for public employees and four states have given public employees the right to strike providing the strike does not interfere with the public health, safety or welfare.

Stephens predicted that in the not-too-distant future, all public employees will have the right to collective bargaining in Texas. In their courses, Stephens and Ritter tell department heads how collective bargaining will effect them. They plan to host a panel discussion of public employee leadership to let department heads know what public employees are seeking to gain through the right to bargain collectively.

Easter Hunt Next Sunday By WT Group

An Easter egg hunt for the children at the Amarillo Children's Home will be sponsored next Sunday by members of the Society for the Advancement of Management at West Texas State University.

Mike Lovelady, vice president, said about 70 children are expected to participate in the Sunday hunt, which will be at Thompson Park in Amarillo.

It will be the second year the Society has sponsored an egg hunt for the children at the home. Prizes will be awarded to participants in various age groupings.

The hunt begins at 2:30 p.m.

Commissioners To Eye Funding

Randall County commissioners are expected to discuss Monday afternoon budgeting of revenue sharing funds.

The commissioners meet at 1 p.m. in the county courthouse in Canyon.

The county receives more than $80,000 per year in federal revenue sharing funds.

Other items on the agenda for the Monday meeting are the appointments of a historical survey committee and the canvassing of the county school trustee election.

Lolmaugh Trial Set For May 9

The murder trial of Marvin Lolmaugh, 30, charged with the shooting death of his father-in-law, has been continued until May 9.

The case was to go to trial last week but was postponed due to a heavy docket of civil matters and due to the unavailability of a defense witness.

The trial is set May 9 in 181st District Court in Canyon.

Lolmaugh was arrested early Nov. 7 near a South Amarillo cafe following the shooting of Leonard Eugene Mullin, his father-in-law.

Former Canyonite Now Top Oil Exec

A former Canyon resident now vice-president of Phillips Petroleum Co., George Bishop, was recently in the Panhandle as guest speaker for Borger's Oil Appreciation Week.

Bishop's talk, "The Energy-Ecology Dilemma," was given before representatives of civic clubs and businesses at a luncheon. He is presently a member of the National Oil & Gas Information Committee.

The oil company executive lived about three miles east of town during his boyhood and attended Canyon schools. In 1935 he graduated from West Texas College with a major in chemistry. During his college years he was employed part-time in the chemistry department and was a member of several honoraries including Phi Beta Gamma, Alpha Chi, and Epsilon Beta.

Mr. Reavis Kerr, 18008th Ave., a classmate of Bishop's, recalls him as "one of the smartest boys I ever knew." However, he had heard no word of him for 30 years until his name and picture were featured in a recent Amarillo news article.

Why Not?

Enjoy every moment of your next visit to Amarillo. Plan to dine at Zuider Zee.
